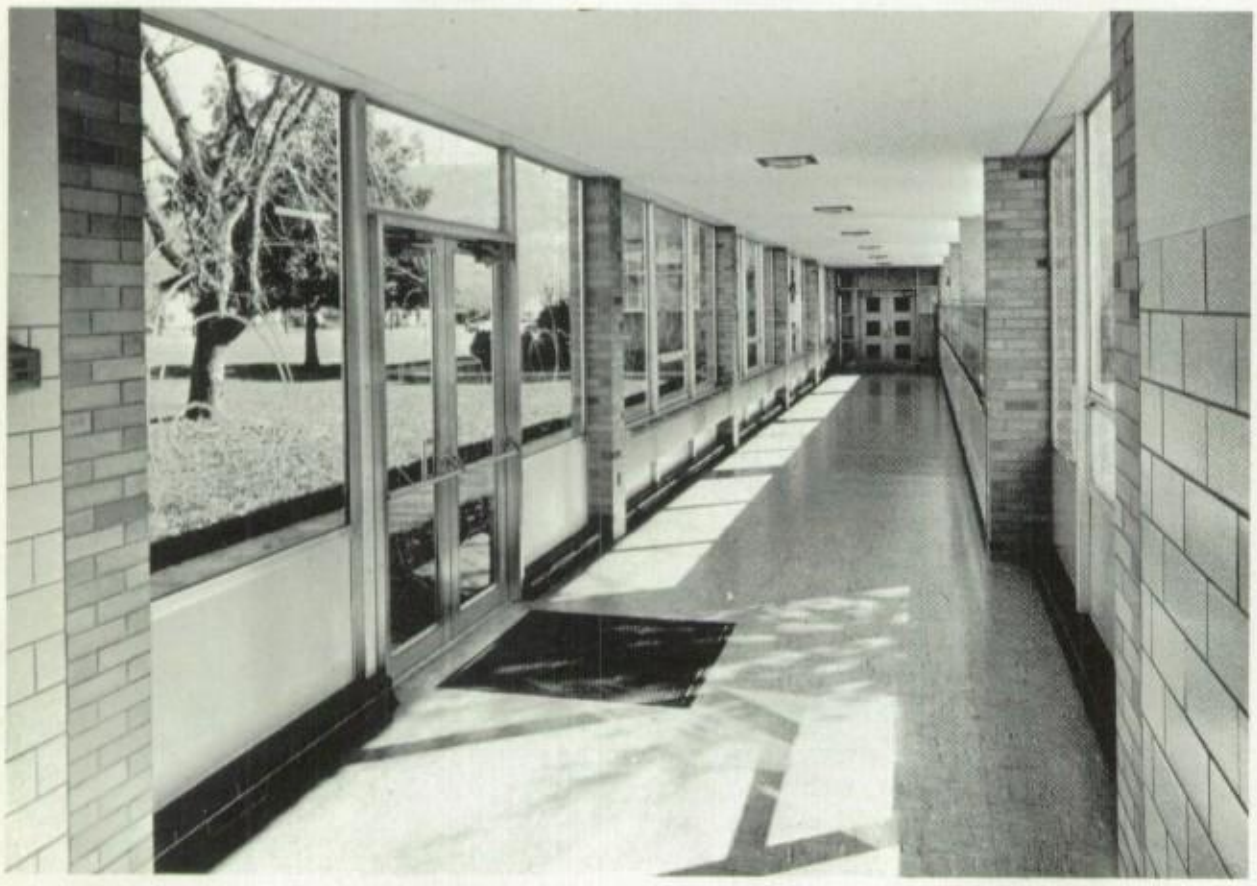
FOREWORD



During classes

Now as seniors, we, the Class of 1966, have almost completed the construction of the foundation of our future. As the building blocks of knowledge have broadened our horizons, we have set higher goals and ambitious dreams. With this knowledge we have the confidence to continue along our chosen road in life.

It is only fitting that we reflect upon the many personalities of Bellwood-Antis High School who have helped us build our solid foundation. We especially have to thank our teachers who have put a lasting block in our foundation that we will always remember as we travel along our road.

We must also reflect upon the events and activities that have most affected us these wonderful years. These pleasant memories place a lasting glow on our foundation. It is a pleasure to present to you the 1966 Tuckahoe, a brief interlude of the foundation of the future from Bellwood-Antis High School. Now, we, the class of 1966, are ready to separate along our special road—"Each to his Own."

IN MEMORIAM

We, the senior class of 1966, dedicate this page in our yearbook to the memory of Mr. Harry I. Knox; and, in this way, illustrate a small portion of the deep respect and admiration we have for him. Having served as agricultural adviser for nearly thirty years at Bellwood-Antis, Mr. Knox became dear to the hearts of his students and fellow faculty members. His firm leadership and guidance will be remembered always.

Mr. Knox was born on November 18, 1913, and died on April 12, 1965, while we were in our Junior year at Bellwood-Antis. The ideals for which Mr. Harry I. Knox stood, will be embedded in hearts forever.

1966 DEDICATEES

To you, Mrs. Susan Sunderland and you, Mr. Howard Walker we the Class of 1966 wish to dedicate our Tuckahoe.

Throughout our years at Bellwood-Antis you were always there when we needed instruction, guidance, or friendship.

Susan Sunderland

Best Wishes!
Howard A. Walker

Your help became especially important in our senior year as you guided us in producing our senior play, ordering announcements and name cards, choosing a career and preparing final graduation arrangements.

For all this and much more we the Class of 1966 say "Thank-You Mrs. Sunderland and Thank-You Mr. Walker," by dedicating our yearbook to you.

IN APPRECIATION

The senior class of 1966 wish to use this way of showing their appreciation to you, Mr. Metcalf, for a "job well done." As you enter into retirement this year, we would like to commemorate your many accomplishments.

Mr. Metcalf's term as supervising principal began on February 4, 1952. In the span of years from 1952 until 1966, many vast improvements have been made. The first thing Mr. Metcalf initiated was an evaluation of our school system. Although it was the first evaluation, Bellwood-Antis passed and became an accredited high school. In 1963 Bellwood-Antis was re-evaluated and again passed. It became evident with this evaluation that an addition to relieve the overcrowded conditions was badly needed. In 1955 the following new facilities were added; two shops, an art room, a new cafeteria, four new classrooms, a male faculty room, two additional student lavatories, a janitor's room, and a health suite. Because the old bus garage was razed a new bus garage was built to store the six buses owned by the school system.

As the student population grew rapidly larger, the school felt its growing pains and the newest addition was begun in 1964. The many new facilities that we gained included; a language lab, eight new classrooms, a renovated commercial section, a conference room, guidance offices, a new physics lab, a new cafeteria, a new gymnasium, and a new auditorium equipped with a new organ and piano.

Along with the above listed accomplishments, Mr. Metcalf has also inaugurated a kindergarten, and a library for the primary school. He encouraged bus drivers to attend workshops, and he encouraged the hiring of additional personnel to alleviate the overworked staff. Some of those hired are both the full-time nurse and the part-time nurse, full-time guidance counselors for both girls and boys, additional physical education directors, along with an elementary school secretary and a primary school librarian.

In accordance with our theme "Each to his own" the class of 1966 wishes to express its appreciation to Mr. Metcalf who has shown us in his own way the true spirit of an educator who is interested in his students.

In grateful appreciation we say thank-you, Mr. Metcalf, may each of us have as successful a life as yours.

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

Heretofore, you have been thought of in many different ways—often as a member of some group. First, you were one of those new first graders, then one of those "little seventh graders" who didn't know where to find different rooms, finally—that big day—a member of the senior class. During your school days, you were also thought of as this or that person's friend, or a member of such and such a gang. Adults and teachers probably thought of you as Mr. and Mrs. Blank's son or daughter, or as somebody or other's sister or brother. Although you've always had your individual identity, it was never as evident as it is about to be when you are graduated and "go out on your own".

"Each to his own" is the theme of your yearbook. It is very appropriate for each of you, for now each person is going to his own future. You will stand or fall on your own merits. If you go away to college or to the service, the chances are that no one will know who your parents are, or who your friends were. You will be entirely on your own. If you take a job and start to work right after high school, again you will be regarded according to your merits.

One important thing to remember, however, is that thought one is "one his own", the things he does always effect other people. Your family, friends, employers, or associates could be hurt by any of your actions that are not as they should be. Also, your character and deeds will reflect upon your school and your parents. While you will not be required to do certain things, as you were when required to go to school, and you will be free to make more of your own decisions, make sure you use these new liberties wisely.

Your theme, "Each to his own", reminds me of another line which would be a good guide for all—"To thine own self be true". If you follow this rule, you will never need to fear.

Harold E. Wagner

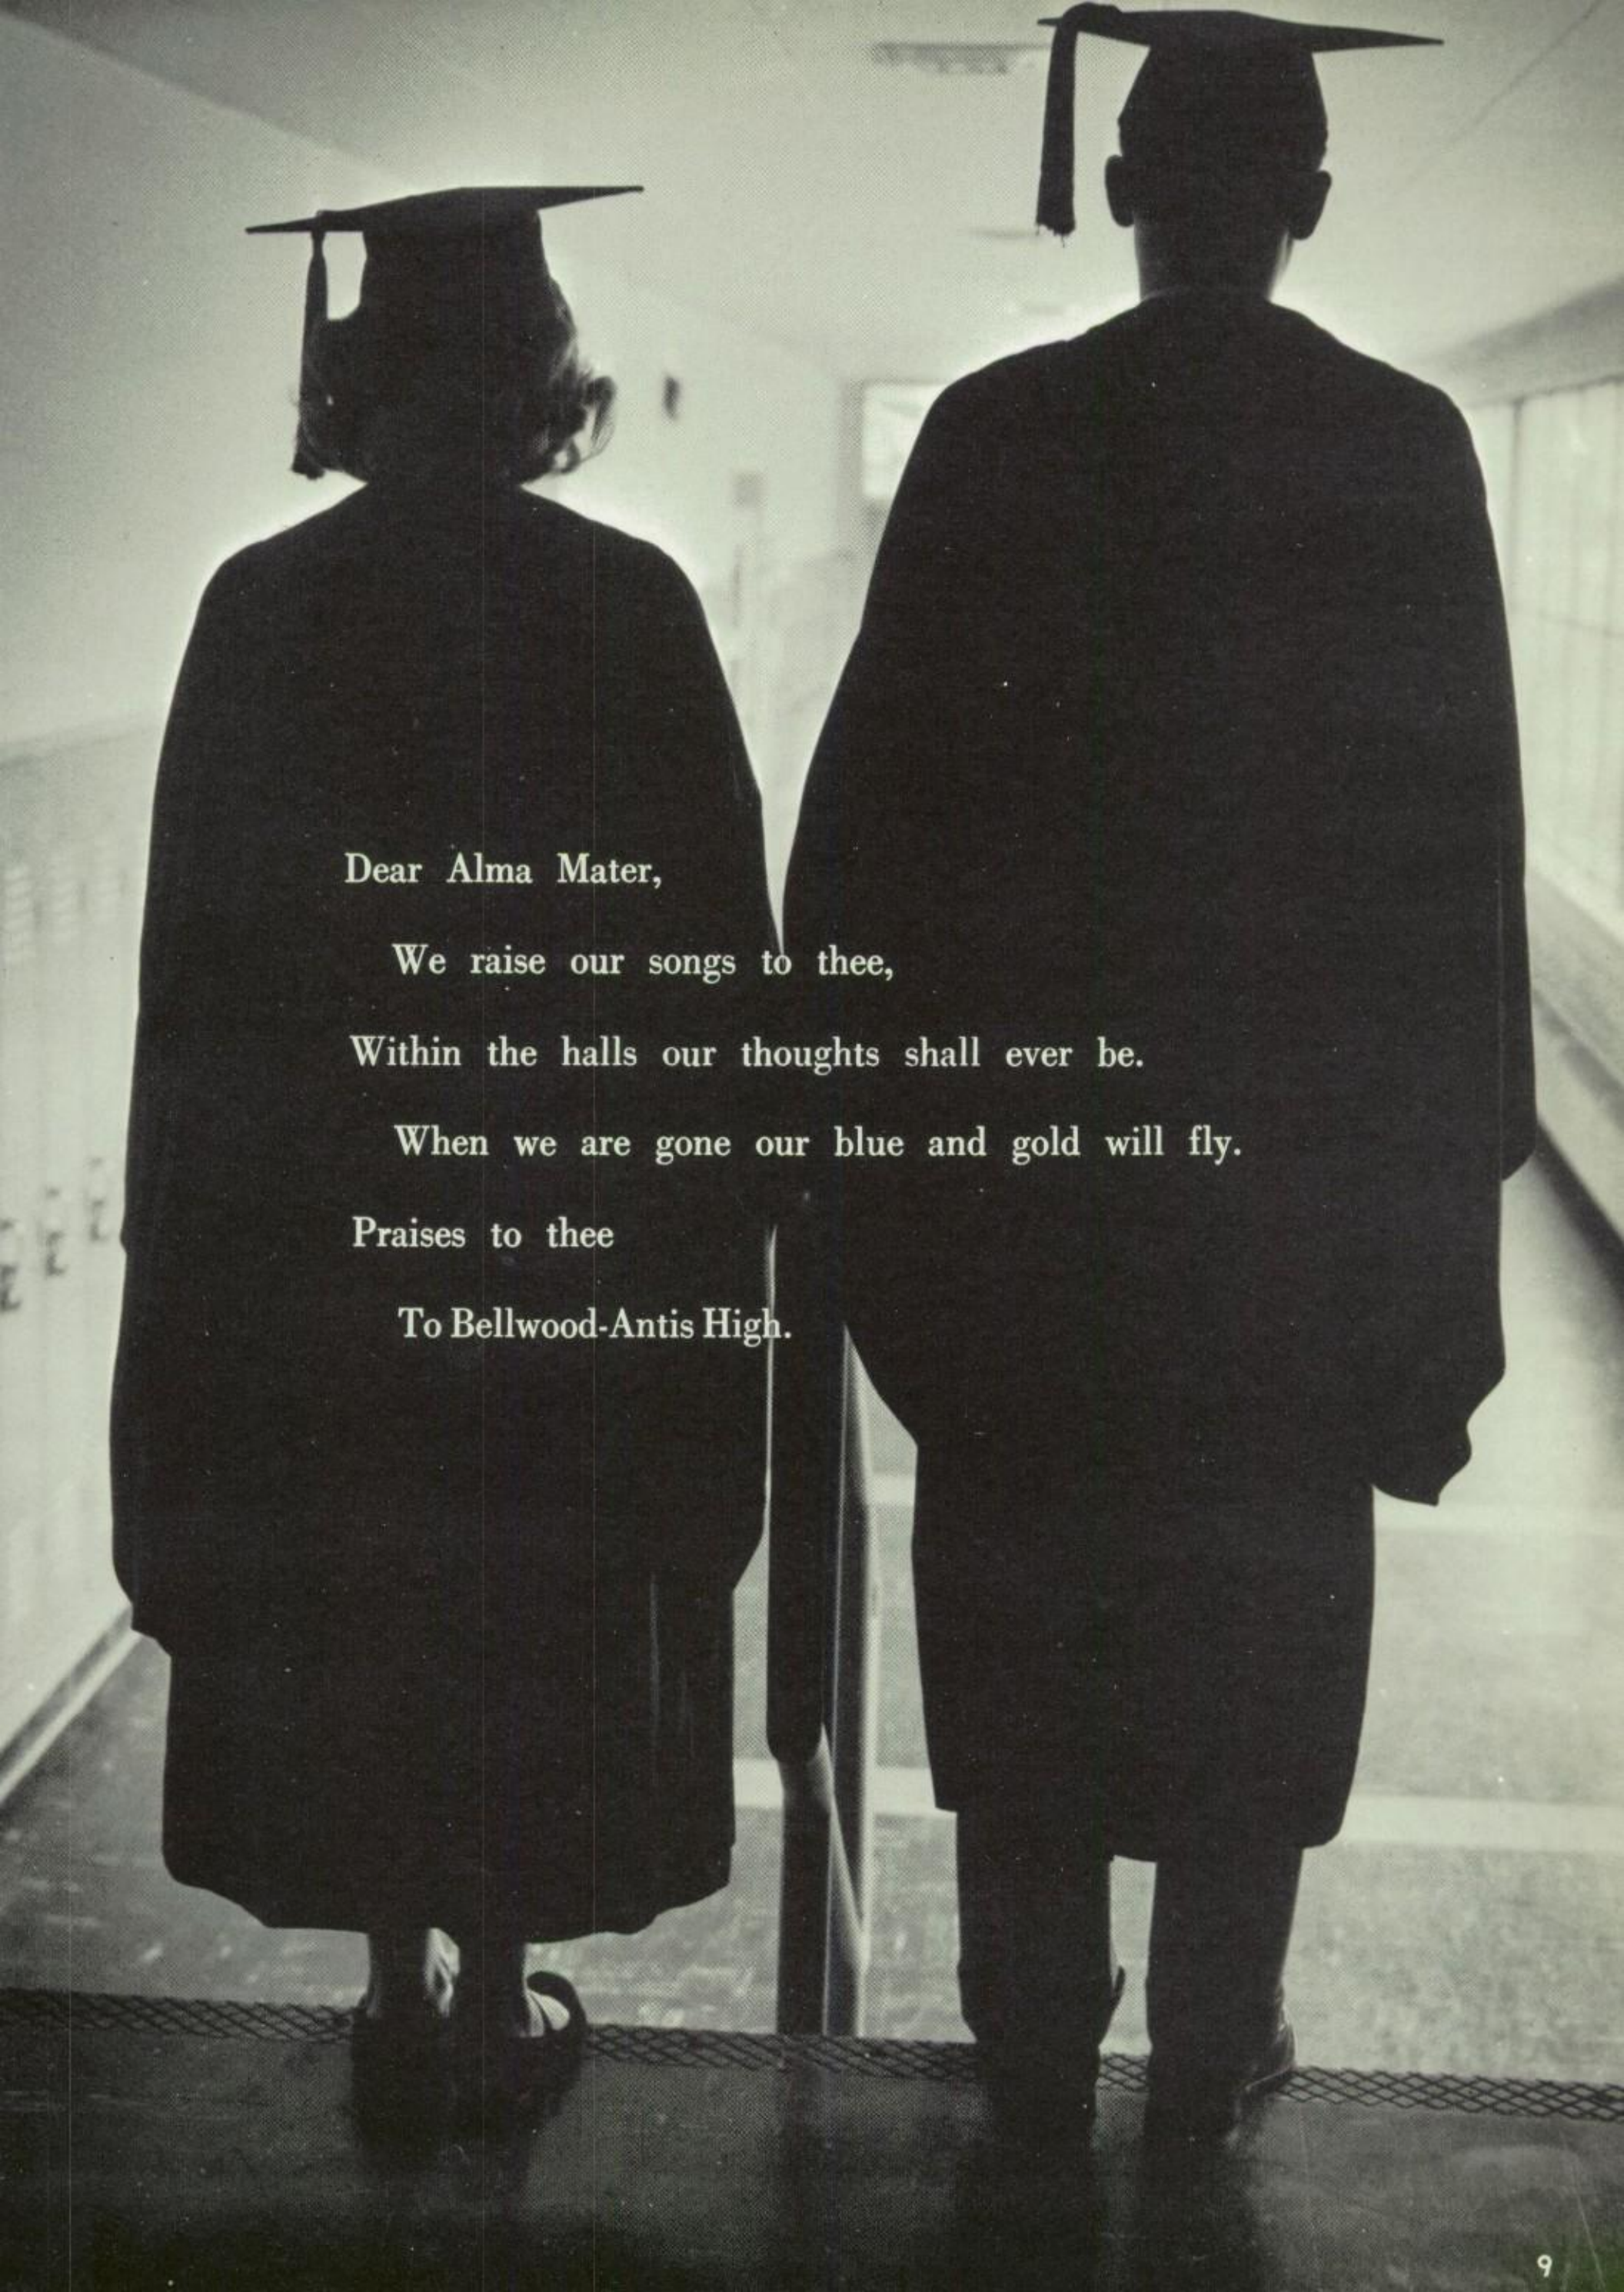
During the past 12 years a dedicated group of people has been working behind the scenes to guide the fortunes of the students in Bellwood-Antis. Their efforts, though usually unpraised, have not gone unnoticed.

In October the formal dedication of the new addition brought to a successful completion many years of planning, foresight, and determination; providing much needed space and better facilities for the student body. They have made it possible for us to grow, both mentally and physically by giving us the material tools required for a modern-day education.

The work done by them is monumental. Many times the midnight oil has burned as they made decisions, mapped out plans, and solved the problems of running our school. They gave unselfishly of themselves in a determined effort to give us a better education.

We have enjoyed these years thanks to their foresight, thoughtfulness, care, and unselfish devotion to duty. We the Class of 1966 thank you the Bellwood-Antis School Board.



Dear Alma Mater,

We raise our songs to thee,

Within the halls our thoughts shall ever be.

When we are gone our blue and gold will fly.

Praises to thee

To Bellwood-Antis High.

"CHEAPER BY THE DOZEN"

Our class play was one of the most memorable highlights of our senior year. Though the production itself was short-lived; the many hours spent rehearsing "Cheaper by the Dozen" will provide many warm and unforgettable memories for the entire cast.

"Cheaper by the Dozen," a hilarious three act comedy tells the tale of the boisterous, super-American Gilbreth family.

Dad, who wins the audience's heart right from the start, is a successful efficiency expert. He always practices what he preaches, and it was just about impossible to tell where his scientific management ends and his family life begins.

The twelve delightful Gilbreth children were always ready to undertake any of Dad's new efficiency programs, although they didn't always turn out as he had planned.

The play illustrates every sort of happening in the Gilbreth household from taking three-minute baths to seeing Anne, the oldest daughter, leave on her first date.

This heart-warming production will be long remembered by everyone who saw it.

Row 3—T. Smith.

The Student Council, the student government of Bellwood-Antis, has contributed much to help the students and promote the general welfare of the school. With Miss Marjorie Campbell and Mr. Kenneth Peterson working hard in their capacity as advisors the council has found the courage to make embarking on new projects easy.

As school began the councils work began. For every football game, both home and away the council prepared a hoop, and decorated the school. Pep shakers, badges as well as megaphones were provided to bolster school spirit. The final wind-up, blue and gold week was although a new idea a marvelous success.

The council quickly undertook a tremendous plan—to collect 1000 lbs. of cookies for our soldiers in Viet Nam. The project though seemingly an insurmountable task was conquered by a hard working council. A total of 1037 lbs. of cookies were collected.

The council also undertook many other projects including: selling pennants, and sponsoring student buses to away basketball games. In February the Student Council held its talent festival.

We the Senior Class wish to thank the council for the great job, it has done, by teaching us that some are to be leaders and some are to be followers. In this way they have helped us come nearer in the realization that it is truly "Each to his own".

One of the highest honors that can be bestowed upon Bellwood Antis Students is membership in the National Honor Society. The Society promotes scholarship, leadership, service, and character—the four dimensions of life. Students elected to the National Honor Society are being honored by the faculty for the attainments already made and recognized for the promise they contain of continued excellence in the cherished ideals of our school.

KEY CLUB

Standing—B. Cornmesser, Parliamentarian; S. Fowler, Secretary; L. Sharer, Treasurer.

Row 2—T. Johnson, A. Zetler, G. Kerns, R. Large, R. Forshey.

In 1925, the Sacramento, California Kiwanis Club organized the first Key Club for the purpose of providing vocational guidance for boys. From this humble beginning Key Club International has expanded until now it is composed of 2,800 Key Clubs and 80,000 members in the 50 United States and Canada. With this rapid growth of Key Clubs its original purpose was also expanded until now it is a complete service organization to the school and community.

Since the Bellwood-Antis Key Club joined this organization in 1959, it has faithfully supported this Key Club tradition. Among others, it has helped to keep the library in order and to further art in the school. It has helped with the bloodmobiles and the founding of the new community library. The Bellwood-Antis Key Club has also helped the less fortunate through its Christmas baskets for the needy campaign and its Youth Serves Youth program.

A THAN

As this yearbook draws to a close we would l to thank all the people who have played a role in preparation of the '66 Tuckahoe. We especially w to thank Mr. Walker and Mrs. Sunderland, our visors, our administration faculty, Mr. Claar, c photographer, and patrons who have been v

OU

acious in aiding us in preparing this yearbook.

As all of us go our separate ways not knowing hat paths we will take in life, we shall hold the ought of our days spent in Bellwood-Antis as the ppiest of our lives. We simply say "Thank you."

Joan,

Here we go! Never forget all those times you never had your Algebra done and took my wrong answers. Remember when w did them on the phone? Always remember our American History note books and trying to keep up to date. What about o wholesome, nourishing lunches? Weren't they great? Always remember 5th period Biology and how I always goofed m tests. Never forget all the fun we had doing things together and all our summer fun. We'll make this summer th best, okay? Best of luck to a snappy little cheerleade Always keep your ready smile and great personality and you'll go far. Never forget Rosy and her autograph and all our great gym classes. Always remember the fun we ha bowling and how I always beat you (Ha ha)!! I'll alwa be one of your best friends (I hope). We'll never be able to forget our last-minute biology projects. Don't ever for get our last kick ball game with the 9th graders. We really won, they just didn't add the score right. We'll slaughte them next year. Be good & good luck. Love ya'
"Pete"

(Brave)

Joan, (Hi!)

Best of luck in the future to one of my favorite friends. May all your dreams come true in the future. Work hard and keep those grades. Also learn those cheers I know you'll make a great cheerleader. Now forget the good times we've had together, swimming, bowling, taking walks on Sunday, when we should have been in church, working out our problems, liking with the youth group, shaking Easter candy, deciding what to wear when we go places, and all those other exciting events. Lots of luck must you with deciding. You'll love it. May our friendship last forever.

May God Bless You.

Marilyn

Joan,

To a real sweet Junior girl. I would like to wish you much success next year as a cheerleader. I am truly glad you made it, I was cheering for you all the way. Believe me, you will have to work during the summer. I will come down and see you hard at work. Be sure to have fun next year!

Love,
"Deb"
